OFFICE OF EXTENSION WORK IN THE SOUTH.

STATES RELATIONS SERVICE.

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

Compiled by Claudia B. Stribling.

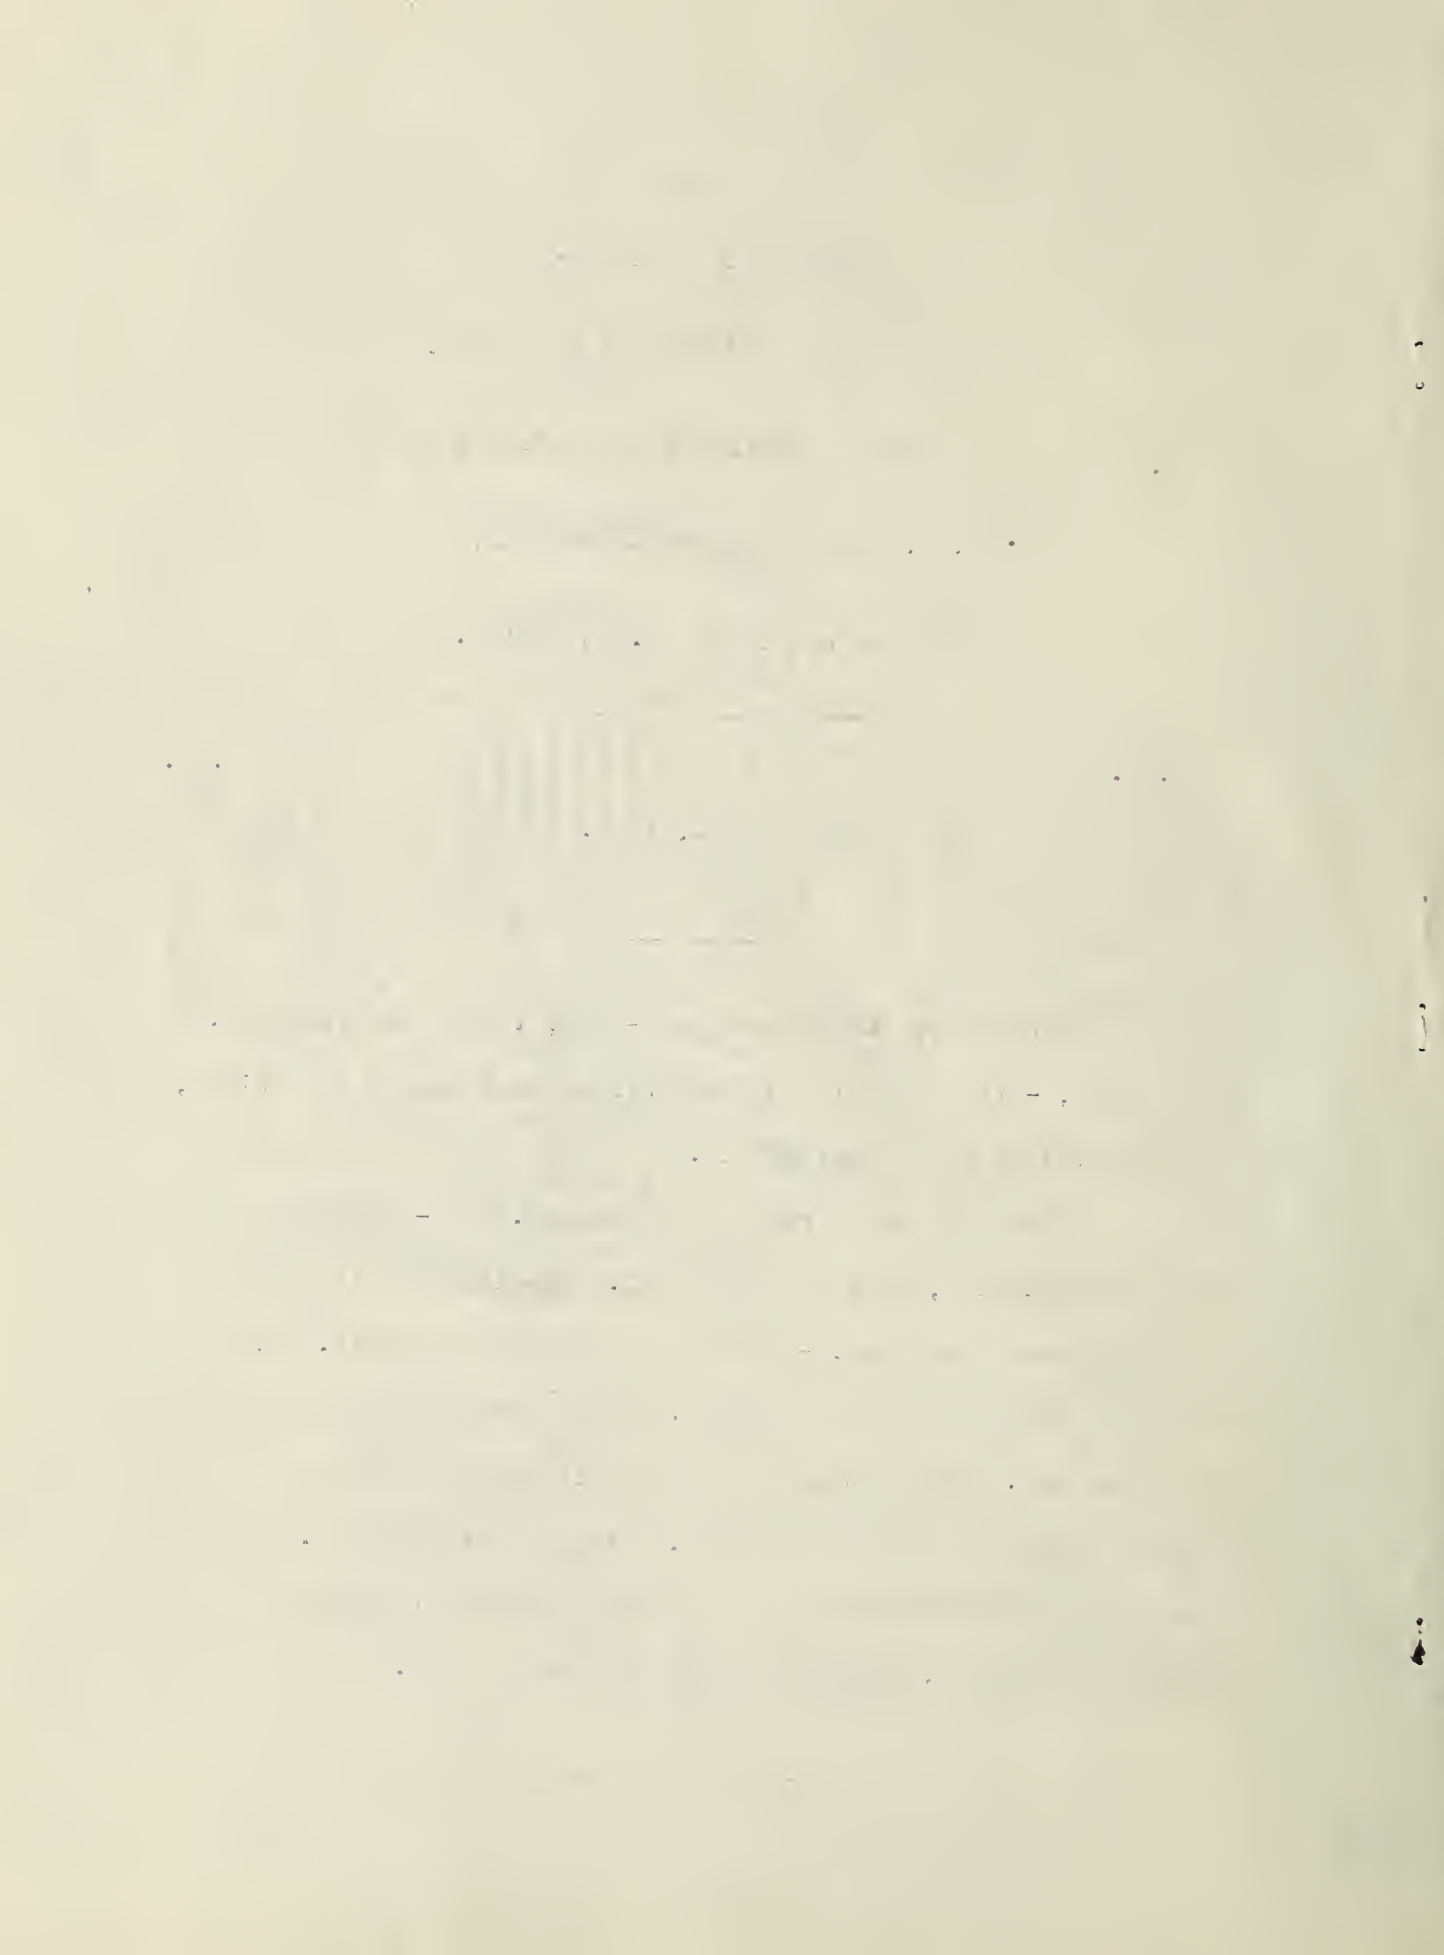

Vol. 1.

No. 9.

January 20, 1919.

Poets have celebrated seed-time, flower and fruitage.
But decay, - the beginning of that strange sad end of all things,
must be valued by the scientists.

Fat gray weeds rot by the wayside. Ash-piles tell of the cheerful fire, long ago burnt out. The leafless trees do not even wear a chevron, - but they have done their bit. Even an empty hay-mow is not a slacker. Bare brown fields are strewn with compost. Nature takes all this ugly refuse to her bosom and extracts from death and decay, strength for new life. Mere man has learned her secrets and how to curb her prodigality in wasting her waste, through the art of distribution.
